MEMORANDUM OF MEETING OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
OF THE NSC, ON MONDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1962, AT 6:00 P.M.,
WITH ALL PRESENT EXCEPT THE PRESIDENT.

The following were considered:

1. A tentative draft of the task force working on Cuban contingency plan dated 11/19 was reviewed, modified and SecDef agreed to resubmit a redraft of Part II for further consideration.
2. Proposed message to DeGaulle, Adenauer and Macmillan was reviewed, modified and approved.
3. Proposed resolution to the OAS was reviewed, and it was decided that the OAS meeting should be "informative", and in all probability a resolution should not be submitted.
4. Briefing paper for President's press conference was not considered pending receipt of written statement by Sorensen.

Note: On Tuesday morning McGone took exception to the attached Questions and Answers on the grounds that they provided too much of an implied endorsement of Castro, and therefore would disaffiliate the United States from many OAS states.

The Cuban Missile Crisis Revisited: An International Collection of Documents, from the Bay of Pigs to the Brink of Nuclear War reproduces a comprehensive collection of records from the archives of the three key governments involved in the most dangerous confrontation of the Cold war. Declassified records from the United States, Russia and Cuba significantly advance analysis of the historical foundations of the missile crisis, the policy calculations and considerations of President John F. Kennedy and premiers Nikita Khrushchev and Fidel Castro, and the overt and covert military and paramilitary operations that combined to bring the world to the threshold of a nuclear exchange. Topics extensively covered in the documentation include the failed U.S.-led invasion at the Bay of Pigs, renewed attempts to overthrow Castro through Operation Mongoose and Operation Northwoods, U.S. military contingency planning for conflict with Cuba, naval warfare, Soviet and Cuban decision making and communications during the crisis, and the repercussions for U.S.-Soviet relations, and Soviet-Cuban relations in its aftermath. Materials were identified, obtained, assembled and indexed by the National Security Archive, a non-profit Washington D.C. based research institute and library. The microfiche collection is accompanied by a printed guide and index.
